

With funds awarded by the City of Covington to the Workforce Division of the NKADD, Covington Works is ready to address many issues affecting today's job seekers, from transportation issues to insufficient skills, to attain self-sufficient wages. The program is designed to offer upskilling opportunities to residents of Covington, increasing the skills and wages of Covington residents while increasing the employee pipeline to Covington businesses. In addition to Covington's residents receiving training and services that support them in obtaining and retaining employment, individuals have an opportunity to gain skills that will last a lifetime, creating higher wage earners over their lifetime. For information on participating as a job seeker or an employer, contact Todd Kyper at (859) 217-2909 or todd.kyper@nkadd.org.
